

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS

I would like to thank the following individuals who act as technical advisors and reviewers for this book. Their willingness to share their knowledge and experience has greatly contributed to the balance and content of this publication. I thank them for their patience as I often struggled to keep things accurate and understandable. As truly gifted teachers, they have guided me and offered suggestions, yet allowed me to reach my own conclusions. I hold them, their ethics, and their standards in the highest regard, and they inspire me to keep my own standards high.

Roy M. Adams is Senior Chairman of the Trusts & Estates Practice Group at the national law firm of Sonnenschein Nath and Rosenthal with offices in Chicago; New York; Short Hills, NJ; Los Angeles; San Francisco; Washington, DC; St. Louis; Kansas City; and West Palm Beach. Mr. Adams is an Adjunct Professor of Estate Planning and Taxation at Northwestern University School of Law, where for over 20 years he has taught estate planning and taxation. He has been presented Northwestern University's Alumni Merit Award for outstanding professional achievement. Mr. Adams is a member of the distinguished teaching faculty of Cannon Financial Institute and is also a Senior Consultant to Cannon's management. Mr. Adams is a Fellow of the American College of Trusts and Estates Counsel. He is Special Consultant to Trusts and Estates magazine for which he writes a bimonthly column entitled, "Wit, Wisdom and the Fiduciary Professions," and a highly acclaimed quarterly column on tax fundamentals entitled, "Back to School." Mr. Adams also contributes a monthly column on estate planning, principally for the brokerage community, in Registered Representative magazine, and a quarterly article on estate planning in Financial Advisor magazine, mainly for investment advisors. One of Mr. Adams' newest books, 21st Century Estate Planning: Practical Applications, was published by Cannon Financial Institute in 2002. He has been the co-author of a two-volume text, Illinois Estate Planning, Will Drafting and Estate Administration (2nd Edition) published in 1995 and revised, and he is a contributing editor to Understanding Living Trusts[®] (5th edition) published in October 1994 and annually revised. Another of Mr. Adams' publications, published by Primedia in 2002, is his book entitled, Wit & Wisdom-The Best of Roy Adams, which contains essays and commentaries upon a variety of nontechnical but extremely entertaining and meaningful topics. He conducts an extensive national and international practice in the areas of estate and tax planning, advising wealthy families, private foundations, public charities, as well as individuals whose assets often include substantial business interests. He lectures nationally and internationally in his areas of expertise and is a much sought-after speaker. Mr. Adams has been recognized in several countries for his humanitarian work, and he actively pursues charitable activities throughout the world. He is admitted to practice in the states of New York and Illinois. Mr. Adams serves as a member of the tax advisory boards of the Museum of Modern Art and Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts.

Theodore (Ted) J. Cranston is a Partner specializing in Trusts and Estates at the law firm of Gray Cary Ware & Freidenrich in La Jolla, California. He is a member of the San Diego, California, and American Bar Associations, and has served as Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the San Diego Bar Association's San Diego and La Jolla Probate Section Committees, as well as Chairman of the Law Office Economics Section Committee. Mr. Cranston has also served on various other committees of the San Diego Bar Association including the Real Property Section, the Tax Section, the Legislation Committee (Probate, Trusts & Estates), and the Speakers Bureau for local junior and senior high schools. Mr. Cranston has specialized in Trusts and Estates since 1965. He is a Fellow of the American College of Trust and Estate Counsel. He has lectured on Trusts and Estates at various Bar functions such as the San Diego Bar Association Estate Planning Clinic and the San Diego Bar Association Orientation Program on Estate Planning for New Lawyers. Mr. Cranston has lectured to other attorneys on various estate planning issues as part of California's Continuing Education of the Bar program, and speaks to other groups as well, including classes at the University of San Diego Law School and Tax Program, Internal Revenue Service organizations, and numerous private groups. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church (where he has served as junior high school teacher, trustee and elder), and has served on the Board of Directors of numerous organizations, including the San Diego Legal Aid Society, Girl Scouts of San Diego, United Cerebral Palsy Foundation of San Diego, San Diego Center for Children, San Diego Repertory Theatre, National Conference of Christians and Jews, School of Theology at Claremont, Planned Parenthood, The LaJolla Playhouse and The Salk Institute. He has also served as Chairman of the National Council and Planned Giving Committee for the Salk Institute.

Edward A. Setzler is an estate planning attorney practicing with Husch & Eppenberger, LLC in Kansas City, Missouri. He is a co-founder and past President of the Estate Planning Society of Kansas City, past Chairman of the Probate and Trust Committee of the Kansas City Bar Association, and past Chairman of the Estate Planning Symposium. He is a Fellow of The American College of Trust and Estate Counsel, recently served a five-year term as its Chairman for the State of Missouri, and is serving on its State Law Committee. Mr. Setzler has been a frequent lecturer on estate planning and probate matters for the Continuing Legal Education Department of the University of Missouri at Kansas City Law School and for the Missouri Bar Association. He is co-editor or co-author for the Missouri Bar Association Deskbooks on Estate Planning, Missouri Estate Administration, and Missouri Guardianship and Trust Law. Mr. Setzler is a member of the Board of Directors, Board of Governors, and an Ambassador of the American Royal and is chairman of its Foundation Committee. He is a Trustee of the Zoo Learning Fund. He is listed in the books Best Lawyers in America, Who's Who in American Law, Who's Who in America, and Who's Who in the World.
